

Call for Proposals

Terms of Reference - Liberia Landscape Program

Facilitating the people of Garwula District in Grand Cape Mount County and,

The people of Senjeh and Klay Districts in Bomi County

To develop Participatory Land Use Plans

September 25, 2020

1. Introduction

IDH Sustainable Trade Initiative (“IDH”) accelerates and up-scales sustainable trade by building impact oriented coalitions of front running companies, civil society, governments, knowledge institutions and other stakeholders in several commodity sectors. We convene the interests, strengths and knowledge of public and private partners in sustainability commodity programs that aim to mainstream international and domestic commodity markets. We jointly formulate strategic intervention plans with public and private partners and we co-invest with partners in activities that generate public goods.

On basis of these Terms of Reference IDH aims to select a party to facilitate the people of Senjeh and Klay Districts in Bomi County, and the people of Garwula District in Grand Cape Mount County to develop Participatory Land Use Plans. This Terms of Reference is for a consultancy firm or team to support communities in the three districts to develop PLUPs.

Garwula District covers an estimated 81,291 hectares of land and a population of 26,936 distributed across 8 Clans. Most of the district is forested and the main livelihood activity is subsistence farming. Senjeh District covers an estimated 53,482 hectares of land and a population of 30,027 distributed across 4 Clans. Klay District covers an estimated 60,846 hectares of land and a population of 23,397 distributed across 4 Clans. The rural parts of the districts are forested and the main livelihood activity is subsistence farming. Together, these districts cover an estimated 195,619 hectares¹ of land and a combined estimated population of 80,360.²

The PLUP should be supported by stakeholders, especially the communities across the three (3) Districts. The Consultant will also ensure that other major land users, including private sector and Private Land Owners holding significantly large estates are engaged and provide inputs to the process.

The PLUP should be implementable over the medium and long-term, and balances the social, environmental and economic interests of stakeholders. For the avoidance of doubt, the people of each district will develop the PLUP to guide local land use decisions in the immediate, medium and long term. The role of the consultant will therefore involve providing technical guidance and inputs to stakeholders during inclusive and participatory deliberations on current land uses, visioning and discussions on future land-use scenarios, and facilitating the PLUP process to agree a shared vision for shared social, environmental and economic well-being.

The assignment will deliver three separate PLUPs; one for each District. The PLUP for each District will contain a Technical Report and relevant maps.

The PLUP should identify key environmental challenges and related socio-economic issues, including land tenure, and how to address the identified challenges. The PLUP should include maps of recommended land uses and reflect at least three different scenarios for the future. The different scenarios should be developed through visioning exercises facilitated with stakeholders across the district, using the Clans³ as the planning units. These scenarios should also advise on what area is suitable for what type of use and why, and based on relevant considerations. Finally, the PLUP should highlight potential forest areas for community managed forest for multiple use, forest for community-led conservation and, areas for food productions and other livelihood activities.

The process for developing the PLUP and related maps should use a participatory, bottom-to-top approach and be guided by application of the principles of Free, Prior and Informed Consent. That is, the process should be inclusive, firmly based on deep consultation with the people of each district and informed by their perspectives. There should be broad-based acceptance of the results across the the two districts. To ensure broad-based acceptance, the Clan should be used as the planning unit. The Consultant should always bear in mind that the PLUP is for the people of the districts and as such, they should make the ultimate decisions about the different land uses with technical guidance from the consultant and other stakeholders. The consultant's work should be guided by reliable data and expert analysis and the resulting plan should be practical and implementable in the local context.

Template Agreements

IDH uses standard contract templates for every agreement entered into with a partner. Reason for these standard templates is that IDH is bound to comply with conditions set by IDH's institutional (back) donors, which conditions IDH must also apply to agreements with third parties contracted by IDH. These conditions set by IDHs donors are therefore integrated in IDH's contracts.

By submitting a proposal the Tenderer accepts the template agreement and IDH General Terms and Conditions for Services, which are attached to the ToR as Annex 1 and Annex 2.

IDH reserves the right to update, change, extend, postpone, withdraw or suspend the Terms of Reference, this tender, or any decision with regard to the selection or contract award. IDH is not obliged in this tender procedure to make a contract award decision or to conclude a contract with a participant. IDH reserves the right to suspend or annul the Tender Procedure at any moment in time.

³ Jaedepo Statutory District has 10 Clans and WedCarba has 8 Clans.

Participants cannot claim compensation from IDH, any affiliated persons or entities, in any way, in case any of the afore-mentioned situations occur.
